

Daily Digest

“School funding is predicated on the accurate accounting of student information. Districts rely on up-to-date information about student mobility because it impacts virtually every aspect of learning and district operations from instructional applications to food service, transportation, library and data warehouses.”

Communication about changes in student activity and mobility has always been a challenge for school districts.

Level Data clients benefit from the Daily Digest, a nightly report that highlights student mobility for that current day. This detailed report provides key information on students who arrived, left, re-enrolled or moved buildings within the district. This report gives Administrators and other key district personnel a quick visual of the student and staff activity and mobility. Anytime a user account is added, disabled or modified that activity is logged into the digest. The district maintains their own distribution list for the Digest so personnel can have ready access to the information.

The release of the new Daily Digest brings a much cleaner and visually appealing look and feel. Now presented as a PDF, the Daily Digest can be easily viewed and distributed. Each district has the flexibility to customize and personalize the digest to meet the needs of their district. They can add or modify what student information is in the digest so they can have the student and staff data that is meaningful to them. The data can also be organized easily in a number of ways. For example, it could be broken down by school, by grade or by a specific action allowing the user to see at-a-glance the information that is presented in a meaningful way.

Please contact Level Data today and learn more about the Daily Digest and other offerings that can benefit your district.
